

NEW MEXICO TOWN
SWEEP BY A FLOODFIERCE CLOUDBURSTS PLAY
HAVOC IN THE WEST.

Large Portion of the Town of Socorro, N. M., Swept Away and Many Persons Drowned—Party of Wyoming Campers Caught in Rushing Waters—Freight Train Derailed

Albuquerque, N. M., Aug. 1.—A cloudburst at Socorro, a few miles south of here, Tuesday afternoon caused a flood in which at least seven persons were drowned. About 2 o'clock two clouds were seen approaching, driven by conflicting currents of air, a rain cloud from the east, a storm cloud from the west. Near Snake river, about eight miles from this city, the clouds met. Soon a great river poured through the principal street of the town. Huge boulders, bridge timbers, logs and thousands of small stones came down with the mighty mass of waters. Nothing could resist the torrent. It swept men along with it in its mighty rush.

To the great mass of debris carried down from the mountains on its crest, were added the timbers of many homes. Struggling in the mass were men, women and children in danger, not alone from the swift-rushing waters, but from the stones, timbers and pieces of furniture which were being dashed against them.

The scene after the great wave had passed was one of desolation. Portions of the city had been swept out of existence. A hasty count revealed the fact that over fifty houses had been entirely swept away, in many places nothing remaining to show that a building had ever stood there. Those which were still standing were badly damaged, and few of them are worth repairing. After a careful examination it is known that over 200 houses are damaged to a greater or less degree by the water and the mass of debris it carried with it. Men, women and children were rushing madly to and fro searching for relatives from whom they had become separated when the flood dealt its first blow. Hundreds were missing, and it seemed that the list of dead would mount high. It has not yet become certain by any means, for many inhabitants of the town are yet missing. Nearly an entire family, that of Joseph Durant, was swept out of existence. The bodies of six of the members have been recovered. Others are still missing.

Sweeping down the valley the flood continued to carry all before it. Five bridges were swept out on the Santa Fe road and miles of track were undermined and destroyed. All stock in the valley is believed to have been lost. Crops have been totally destroyed. In this vicinity alone the damage to property is estimated at $1,000,000. Towns south of here are reported to be flooded and the destruction of property is said to be complete.

CAMPERS DROWNED.

Wyoming Pleasure Seekers Swept Away by Floods.

Casper, Wyo., Aug. 1.—A cloudburst near here played havoc with the campers in the valley of Garden creek. The first thing the flood reached was the pleasure resort at the head of Garden creek. At this point all the buildings were crushed and swept away and the original site of the hotel at this point is buried beneath debris twenty or more feet deep. From here the water followed the course of the creek and demolished everything in its path.

This flood of water in its rush down the side of the mountain found many campers up and down the creek, either sleeping or just about ready to retire for the night. S. Newby and his family had retired for the night, when suddenly they were surrounded by water, and a race for life commenced. Newby says that he heard his wife scream for help. He tried to catch hold of her, but missed and in the next second was being carried on by a great rush of water. That was the last he saw of his wife and baby. Newby grabbed the limbs of a floating tree and after drifting about forty rods was thrown on a bank. The body of Mrs. Newby was found beneath a pile of debris twenty feet high. The boy has not been found. Near the Newby camp Samuel Harrison, lately of Alliance, Neb., was camping. Harrison's two children were caught in the great flood and carried away. The bodies of the children were recovered. One of the children was a boy 12 years old, and the other a girl of 15.

FREIGHT TRAIN DERAILED.

Cloudburst Does Immense Damage in Colorado.

Cripple Creek, Col., Aug. 1.—A freight train on the Florence & Cripple Creek railroad was caught in a landslide and derailed near Adelaide Tuesday night. A succession of cloudbursts occurred at the head of Eight-Mile creek, about twelve or fifteen miles north of Adelaide. Engineer R. M. Gove and Fireman Marice Lyons saw the water coming down the creek. Lyons managed to escape by climbing up the side of the mountain. Gove is supposed to have been drowned. Brakeman Dolan is thought to have lost his life.

The flood was caused by a cloudburst and a wall of water twenty feet high rushed down the narrow canyon. Three lives were lost and four employees of the railroad company are missing. The dead are:

MRS. CARR, aged 40.
MR. TRACEY, aged 30.
Cook, name unknown.
The missing are:

R. M. Gove, engineer, aged 35; has a wife and child at Florence.

Dick Dolan, brakeman, aged 30; has a mother at Florence.

Frank Caldwell, brakeman, aged 24.

C. C. Hitchcock, night operator at Florence.

The hotel, which was owned by Mrs. Carr and Mrs. Tracey, was completely demolished, but the waiters escaped.

elaide, the other at South Four-Mile. The latter landslide covered the railroad track for about 100 feet.

Colorado Is Flooded.

Denver, Col., Aug. 1.—Colorado has been visited for two days with the most destructive rains and cloudbursts in the history of the state. At Boulder, forty miles north of Denver, three inches of rain fell in four hours, damaging crops to an inestimable extent. Irrigating ditches and flumes have been damaged along their entire length. At Catskill in New Mexico, the Red river went on a rampage, bridges were washed out and several families in the town had to flee for their lives. From a score of other points in the mountain come reports of heavy rains and cloudbursts. Travel on all the mountain roads is interfered with, and it will be weeks before the damage to some of them is repaired.

Western Rivers Rising.

Wichita, Kan., Aug. 1.—The Arkansas river is higher and reports of damages continue to come in, swelling the aggregate losses, which it is impossible at this time to approximately estimate. The Missouri Pacific railway has men at work trying to stop the river's encroachments on the western approaches of its bridges.

SPAIN HATES TO SWALLOW IT.

Payment of The Mora Claim Opposed—United States Called Unfair.

Madrid, Aug. 1.—Republican and carlist senators and deputies have addressed a protest to the government against the payment of the Mora claim without the sanction of the cortes. The protest declares that the government's precipitancy in settling the claim of the United States is unconstitutional and humiliating to Spain and that the conduct of the United States in taking advantage of the Cuban insurrection to press the claim is an exhibition of an unfriendly disposition.

The government has decided to pay the Mora claim in three installments. It is the intention afterward to induce the United States to recognize Spanish claims for damages to property in Florida of citizens of the country which were incurred during the civil war in America.

TO RESORT TO ARMS.

Irish Movement for the Advocacy of Revolutionary Measures to Be Organized.

New York, Aug. 1.—The new Irish movement, the object of which is to form an open organization opposed to all parliamentary attempts to redress Ireland's grievances and advocating revolutionary measures, is about to take definite shape.

A convention of delegates from Irish organizations in the United States and Canada will be held within a few weeks, when a program for the working of the new movement will be formulated. A committee is now in session considering a time and place for the convention. In a few days the decision will be made public. Washington, Chicago, St. Louis, New York, Boston, and Philadelphia are the cities most favored and the probability is that in one of these cities the meeting will take place.

SMALL FIGHT IN CUBA.

Spanish Troops Put a Body of Insurgents to Rout.

Havana, Aug. 1.—While Lieutenant Peralta with a detachment of twenty cavalry was making a reconnaissance of an insurgent camp near the village of Solapa, he was fired upon by the vanguard of the insurgent forces under the command of Colonel Zayas, 300 strong. The entire insurgent command immediately attacked Lieutenant Peralta's company. Major Zubia, in command of a body of 200 soldiers heard the firing and went to the relief of Lieutenant Peralta. He engaged Colonel Zayas, and after a hard fight dispersed the insurgents, who fled in the direction of Agabama. The insurgents left three dead on the field, and in their flight threw away many rifles and machetes. The loss of the Spaniards was only two wounded.

DUESTROW ON TRIAL.

Defense to Prove That the Prisoner Was Drunk at the Time of the Murder.

Union City, Mo., Aug. 1.—A jury having been obtained to try for the second time Millionaire Arthur Duestrow of St. Louis for killing his wife and child, and the opening addresses having been delivered, the taking of testimony is now in progress. A number of witnesses for the prosecution have been examined, but thus far the state has been unable to show premeditation, which the circuit attorney had announced he would bring out in the testimony. The defense is confining itself to prove that the prisoner was drunk at the time of the murder.

OUTRAGE AT NEBRASKA CITY.

Salvation Army People Drenched by the Fire Department.

Nebraska City, Neb., Aug. 1.—The Salvation army in this city is in trouble. Members were arrested Saturday night and subsequently released because no charge could be brought against them. Being unable to suppress them by process of law, the city last night endeavored to drown their ardor. When the army appeared on the street the fire department came up, attached a hose to the hydrant, and thoroughly drenched the Salvationists. All fair-minded citizens denounce the performance, and an action at law would result in heavy damages against the city.

Liabilities Only $9,900.

Pittsburg, Aug. 1.—The Hamilton Savings Fund and Loan Association, with a capital stock of $30,000,000, has been closed by the state bank examiners, and the Union Trust Company, of this city, placed in charge as temporary receivers. The liabilities, according to the officers of the association, are but $9,900 and the assets $11,000. The association is a national concern, but the depositors are believed to be all

FIRE IN MENOMINEE
COSTS $1,000,000MUCH LUMBER BURNED IN MICHIGAN.

One Million Dollars Will No More Than Cover the Loss—Three Lumber Yards and a Match Factory Consumed—Other Fires of Yesterday Through the Country.

Menominee, Mich., Aug. 1.—The most destructive fire this town has ever known commenced at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It started in a pile of lath in the yard of A. Spies. As the bunches of lath burned their twine binders broke, and the bunches spreading open caused an intense heat.

Two men employed in the yards, whose names could not be learned, were overcome by the flames and smoke and suffocated before they could be rescued.

The fire department was promptly on the ground, but the lumber contiguous to the burning lath had caught fire, and although many streams of water were playing on the piles the flames made rapid progress, and in something less than an hour the extensive lumber district occupied by the mills of A. Spies, the Girard Lumber Company and the Bay Shore Lumber Company was all a sheet of flame.

A brisk northerly wind fanned the flames, and at one time it looked as if the whole length of Main street would be swept. Besides the excellent home department, prompt assistance came from Marinette, and relief was asked from Green Bay and Oshkosh. The mills of the companies named were saved, which is almost in the nature of a miracle, considering the huge piles of flaming lumber by which they were surrounded. Conservative estimates place the amount of lumber burned at 30,000,000 feet, valued at $100,000. Barns, offices, and other buildings and property destroyed will easily swell the total loss to $1,000,000. Each one of the companies will lose about 10,000,000 feet of lumber. A. Spies has no insurance, but the Bay Shore and Girard companies are insured up to four-fifths of actual value.

For two or three hours the inhabitants of upper Main street, near the burning locality, were in a state bordering on panic. All the available drays and wagons of the town were procured to save household effects from threatened destruction. At 8 o'clock the danger of a further spread of the flames was averted. The match factory also burned. It had a large stock of blocks, all of which was swept away with no insurance. The brave firemen fought the fire till after 11 o'clock, at which time full control was obtained and the frightened inhabitants were permitted to retire with a surety that their homes were no longer in danger. Several of the firemen were severely injured. Chief Kratz had his nose broken by a falling pile of lumber.

Forest Fires in Michigan.

Gladstone, Mich., Aug. 1.—There is still much fire in this vicinity and the wind remains in the north. Maywood, a pleasure resort east of the city, was swept by fire yesterday afternoon and there is a rumor that Cook's station on the "Soo" line is surrounded by fire and there is little hope of saving the few buildings and about 8,000 cords of wood belonging to the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company. It is believed that the danger to this city is passed.

Small Fires in Indiana.

Portland, Ind., Aug. 1.—Three fires in town and two in the country make up yesterday's record for Portland and Jay County. The town fires, with the exception of one which swept out a lot of stables, were small, but those in the country consumed large barns and some stock. In one case twenty tons of hay were burned. The Creamery Package Manufacturing company's plant caught once, but was extinguished. Its principal office is in Chicago.

Loss at Wells, Minn.

Wells, Minn., Aug. 1.—Three business blocks and a livery stable were burned early this morning. The loss is $25,000, with an insurance of $11,000. Fireman Hayes was seriously injured by falling glass and twenty-six horses were burned to death.

CRISIS AT OMAHA.

Two Police Forces Are Doing Business There To-day.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 1.—The situation in Omaha over the effort of the A. P. A. to get control of the police force is becoming more serious hourly. Two police forces are doing business in the city—the present force drawing authority from the present commission, and a new force under authority of a new law which was passed by the legislature. A collision is imminent. The A. P. A. have organized and armed a police force to do their bidding.

Walt Seeley, who was sent out over the state by the A. P. A. combine to feel the pulse of the state militia and find out how they would act in case they were called out by the governor to suppress trouble in Omaha, returned last night. He reports that the soldiers did not give him much encouragement, as they will neither resign nor refuse to fight if ordered into the field by the executive.

Porte Has Surrendered.

London, Aug. 1.—The Daily News publishes a dispatch from Berlin which says the Tageblatt has word from Constantinople that Turkey has accepted in their entirety the reforms which the powers have demanded in Armenia after receiving a firm note from the Salisbury government.

THE INDIANS LEAVE
JACKSON'S HOLEALL HOSTILE REDS ABANDON THE FIELD.

So Say Ranchers Who Reached Soda Springs This Morning—Two Hundred Utes Seen Near South Pass—Indian Agents Notified to Order the Reds Back Onto Their Reservations

Soda Springs, Idaho, Aug. 1.—Ranchers who arrived here this morning say that the Indians have all left Jackson's hole.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 1.—The governor sent a dispatch to Washington this morning, saying that two hundred Utes were seen yesterday near South Pass in Fremont county.

Washington, Aug. 1.—The Indian Bureau today telegraphed all Indian agents to order all Indians back to their reservations.

Pocatello, Idaho, Aug. 1.—There seems to be some foundation for a revival of the Indian scare in Star Valley. The 900 Indians who are near Cariboo are all painted and appear to be on the warpath. All settlers in Star Valley have fled to the upper part of the valley and are fortifying themselves at Afton, Wyo., which is quite a town. This leaves all property at the mercy of the redskins. Mr. White of Salt Lake reports all the people of Gray's Lake and Star Valley leaving their homes and coming to Soda Springs as hurriedly as possible in wagons and on horses. The excitement was caused by two messengers coming to the Upper Star Valley yesterday and reporting 900 Indians camped near Cariboo. Mr. White says these messengers report fifty families killed by Indians in Jackson's Hole, but he could not learn when they left there. As soon as the news was received the people all picked up and left. Star Valley and Cariboo are forty miles from Soda Springs, but Cariboo is thirty miles west of Star Valley. It seems to be the impression these Indians are coming away from the United States troops and have begun looting and murdering on their road.

Want to Kill the Czar.

New York, Aug. 1.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg says: "An extensive conspiracy has been discovered among the priests of the Seminary and University of Kieff, aiming at the introduction of a plan of greater freedom of attack upon the prevailing system of nepotism in governmental positions. It is also stated that the discovery has been made that the students' union of the University of Moscow is planning to assassinate the czar."

Two Missionaries Die of Cholera.

New York, Aug. 1.—A cable dispatch has been received at the rooms of the Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church announcing the death from cholera in India of the Rev. and Mrs. August Kullman, missionaries in the town of Azonol in the Bengal-Burmah conference. Mr. Kullman went to India from Vineland, N. J., in 1892.

Won't Drop Pender Matter.

Explosion at Lorain, Ohio.

Lorain, O., Aug. 1.—A terrific gas explosion took place in the blacksmith department of the Johnson steel plant this morning. Four men were badly injured. A huge nail was driven into the abdomen of one of the blacksmiths, tearing out his entrails. He cannot recover.

The Alabama Race War.

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 1.—The sheriff's posse returned from Brookside, the scene of Tuesday night's race riot, yesterday, bringing with them ten negro rioters who had been arrested, two having been rescued from the enraged white miners after ropes had been placed about their necks preparatory to hanging them. One woman is among the rioters. Half a dozen women took part in the riot. All is quiet now.

Dissatisfied with Miners.

Ishpeming, Mich., Aug. 1.—The business men of Ishpeming and Negaunee express disapproval of the strikers' actions with reference to their rejection of the companies' proposition to call at the mines Monday morning. They talk of holding a meeting for the purpose of taking steps to try and induce the men to wait on the mine officials to ascertain what concessions the companies are willing to offer.

Small Strike at Minonk, Ill.

Minonk, Ill., Aug. 1.—The miners of the Chicago and Minonk Coal and Tile Works company struck because there was a deduction from their wages of 50 cents and $1 for the doctoring of married men and their families and single men, respectively. The men will go to work again, as the company will not insist on collection.

AT SAN SALVADOR.

Populace Greatly Excited Over Reported Massacre.

San Salvador, Aug. 1.—The people are in a frenzy because thirty citizens belonging to leading families were arrested yesterday, and it is rumored that they were shot within the barracks. The troops are ready for action, though the police are trying to clear the streets. The city authorities have issued a proclamation calling upon the people to return to their homes and warning them that the city is under martial law. The crowd seems undecided what to do, lacking leadership.

Arrests in the Gebhard Case.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 1.—Frank Dunbar and his son-in-law, Robert Wyatt, of 16 Woodburn avenue, West Indianapolis, neighbors of Gebhard, have been arrested, charged with being accessory to the murder of Ida Gebhard. The officers are reticent about the matter, but so far as can be learned the suspicion is that either or both of them know how the body was taken to the stable. There is no suspicion that either Dunbar or Wyatt had anything to do with the murder of the child, but the theory is that one or both were prevailed upon to help a neighbor out of trouble. The officers say that they can produce the woman to whom Mrs. Dunbar said, since the finding of the body: "If people only knew what I know." Mrs. Gebhard testified before the coroner yesterday and identified the clothes the child wore when murdered.

Robber's Desperate Fight.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 1.—Two men made a bold attempt yesterday to rob the safe of the Bartholomew Brewing Company on Michigan street. One of them engaged the bookkeeper in conversation while the other quietly slipped into a rear office and when discovered by the bookkeeper was busily at work on the safe. An alarm was immediately raised and both of the thieves started down the street with a crowd behind them yelling "Stop thief!" A policeman soon overtook one of the men, who drew a revolver and a shooting match between the two took place. Neither was hurt, and the robber was finally captured. He gave the name of Joseph Rawson, and said he was 23 years old.

Two More Durrant Jurors.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 1.—Two additional jurors were secured yesterday to try Theodore Durrant for the murder of Blanche Lamont. The third panel of seventy-five names having been exhausted, an order was issued for a venire of 150 new names. Durrant still continues to be the object of much worship. As he was entering the courtroom a well-dressed and handsome woman rushed toward him with endearing words and attempted to embrace him. The sheriff protected Durrant from this admirer and also refuses to deliver the quantities of flowers sent to his cell by strangers.

Three Quarymen Killed.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 1.—At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon three men were instantly killed and two others badly, and perhaps, fatally injured in a stone quarry at Broadway and Osceola street by the premature discharge of a charge of giant powder. The workmen were buried beneath tons of rock. Two men were taken out alive, but so severely mangled that they may not survive.

Indicted for Murder in 1881.

Salem, Ill., Aug. 1.—The grand jury yesterday just before adjourning indicted John A. McClelland and Wesley J. Tabor charging them with the murder of Alexander McClelland and his son Oscar, who disappeared from their home in this county, in 1881, and whose skeletons, it is believed by many, were found in a pond on the McClelland farm in the fall of 1893.

Train Robbers to Be Tried.

Denver, Col., Aug. 1.—"Bob" Taylor and his gang of alleged train robbers have been turned over by the United States authorities to Sheriff Bowers of El Paso county and taken to Colorado

EX-TAX COLLECTOR
IS LODGED IN JAILROBERT G. SCOTT LOCKED UP AT JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

He Is Charged With Embezzling Nine Thousand Dollars From the City From Which He Had Drawn His Salary to Run That Office—The Criminal Record.

Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 1.—Robert G. Scott, ex-tax collector of this city, was arrested this morning for embezzling $9000 from the city.

Carrollton, Mo., Aug. 1.—Arguments in the Taylor murder trial began this morning, the evidence being concluded yesterday afternoon. After the court had closed, Bill Taylor, in an interview with a reporter, said: "This whole thing is the result of an awful conspiracy against me—the charges of arson, forgery, cattle stealing and all. I have been hounded and driven by my enemies, but I have as many, perhaps more, friends as enemies, and I will fight this to a finish. I am innocent, and I will never be convicted."

Not Allowed to Talk.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 1.—Holmes has not admitted anything and every interview that has been printed as coming from him is false. He has not said that Pietzel committed suicide; he has said nothing whatever concerning the Pietzel children; he has not admitted that Chappel articulated skeletons for him and he has not expressed any dismay at the arrest of Quinlan. Holmes is perfectly willing to talk; will answer any questions the visitor likes to put to him concerning his castle, but the authorities won't let anyone talk with him. No newspapers are allowed to reach him until all reference to his case has been cut from them, and he is not aware of the evidence unearthed in Chicago. Experienced criminal lawyers say there is no good case against him.

REPEAL THE LIBEL LAW.

Illinois House Votes to Kill Measure Passed Last Session.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 1.—The house passed Chalmers' bill repealing the Jones libel law, which was enacted at the regular session. The vote was 93 yeas to 34 nays. Merriam of Tazewell offered a resolution calling on the governor, the Times-Herald and Evening Post of Chicago, and the Peoria Journal to appear before the bar of the house and substantiate their charges that boodling has been indulged in by the members of the present legislature.

The resolution was not considered. In the senate the sentiments of the respective members were decisively expressed in regard to the question of considering all the subjects mentioned in the governor's call.

Craig obtained a suspension of the rules to call up his resolution to have all bills recalled from the committees and providing that the legislature should remain in session until all the business under the governor's proclamation had been acted on. The resolution was then read and on motion of Crawford it was laid on the table by a vote of 25 yeas to 16 nays. The house arbitration bill came up as a special order on third reading in the senate and was passed by a unanimous vote.

Senator Herb's express company bill was amended to provide that the tax be one-half of 1 per cent. After a long debate over recommending the bill to the Committee on Judiciary, further consideration was postponed until this morning.

MARYLAND DEMOCRATS.

State Ticket Named at the Baltimore Convention.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 1.—The ticket was named by the democratic state convention which met here yesterday. The gathering was called to order a little after noon by Senator Talbot, who predicted a big democratic success this year. The committee on resolutions after an hour's deliberation returned with a unanimous report. The resolutions approved the democratic platform of 1892, and of the able and patriotic administration of President Cleveland. They declared against free silver and approved the Wilson tariff bill, which was characterized as the best the country has known for thirty-five years. The administration of Governor Brown was highly complimented. Following is the ticket: For governor, John E. Hurst; for comptroller, Marion DeKalb Smith; for attorney-general, Charles S. Crothers.

Says Minnie Williams Is Alive.

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 1.—John Allen, alias John C. Caldwell, the supposed accomplice of Holmes, was interviewed in the penitentiary yesterday. He said that he could clear up the mystery surrounding the disappearance of the Williams girls if paid for doing so. He wants a money consideration in addition to a pardon. The prison officials are inclined to believe he is a hatch, notwithstanding his denials. Allen persists in his assertion that Minnie Williams was alive six months ago and in the belief that she is alive now. When asked if he would parole Convict Allen and under certain conditions pardon him Governor Clark said the conditions would have to be presented and taken up in legal form before he could return an answer to that question.

Mississippi Populist Ticket.

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 1.—The Populists of Mississippi in convention yesterday reiterated the demands of the Omaha platform and declared for the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, the abolition of national banks, the issuing of all money by the general government; for a material increase of per capita circulation, for the payment of the public debt in either silver or gold, against interest bearing bonds, and for the issue of full legal-tender notes to supply all deficiencies in the treasury. A full state ticket was nominated, Captain Frank Burkett being named for governor.

DID TRAMPS KILL WALTER WHEELER

Beloit People Now Hint at a Foul Murder.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH THEORY LOOKS IMPROBABLE.

Gang That Is Capable of Anything Make Their Headquarters at That Oasis of Criminality, "The Willows" and They May Have Stained Their Hands in Blood—Robberies Always Follow the Absence of the Thieves From That Point.

Was Wallace Wheeler the Beloit man who was found dead beside the road with a gaping wound in his stomach murdered by tramps?

"Has another cold blooded murder been added to the long list accredited to Rock county's already blood red page in history?"

Ask almost Beloit men those two questions and he will answer it with a mysterious shake of the head.

"I do not know" will probably be the answer, but there are many people who insist that Wheeler did not die by accident, but at the hands of a lawless band of vagabonds that inhabits "The Willows" just over the line in Illinois.

No tougher gang of criminals is gathered in the United States than the "outfit" that make their home near the Line City. "The Willows" is a place known to criminals all over the country and is an ideal spot for them to hide after committing some depredation on the surrounding country. It is but a step or two from Wisconsin to Illinois and from Illinois to Wisconsin. Winnebago county authorities are said to be passive in the matter, while the Beloit police, and they, by the way, are all brave and competent officers, have no authority outside of the state.

Resorts Are Plenty. Resorts such as would charm the hearts of these lawless desperadoes and lazy tramps, are scattered about that country, and many a carousal ends in a cracked head, the knowledge of which never comes to the police.

On a still night, when one of these drunken fandangoes is in progress, the good citizens of the Line City can hear the revelers yell and howl, but they cannot hear the heavy thud when some dancer is "laid out" by a blow with a beer glass, or the muttered protest of some drunken man whose pocket is picked of whatever goods he may be possessed. They hear the sounds of revelry, but not the silent wickedness with which these foul brothels reek. Beloit police can do nothing, for these tough places are "over the line" and subject only to the Winnebago authorities. Winnebago's sheriff resides at Rockford, eighteen miles away, so that he naturally sees but little of the pranks played after dark in the combination bawdy-house and low beer guzzling "joints." Painted women and bad men are the only habits and there is no law worth regarding.

Shelters All Grades of Crooks. Such are the conditions and advantages of "The Willows" is it strange that such a criminal oasis should be headquarters for crooks of all kinds? Not at all. It is the most natural thing in the world, and they are there.

"Gone to 'The Willows'" is the answer frequently made when one Chicago "crook" asks another where their mutual friend has gone. "He'll be back when this job blows over."

And so it goes. Each day the Line City police will go down and look over the crowd at this tramp paradise. The officers will note each new face and each suspicious looking package. These visits are not impelled by mere curiosity, but are frequently followed by the arrest of some criminal, who, mayhap may be wanted in Chicago for a bank robbery or in Seyene for "tapping a till." Many a sharp wile is practiced by the lynx-eyed Line City police to get the "wanted" man into Wisconsin, where, handcuffs can be slipped upon his wrists and the lockup door changed behind his back. All kinds of decoy letters, "fake" telegrams and occasionally a hickory cane practice are utilized to this end, and the "bird" is caged sooner or later.

Robberies Follow Their Absence. Perhaps, when City Marshal, George Appleby visits "The Willows" on one of his tours he will find some of "the gang" missing. Then he, picks up his ears. "There's been a robbery committed somewhere" is his mental calculation as he notes the men who are gone and I may want to know who did it." Perhaps the next day he will get a postal card from some Illinois or Wisconsin village saying that So and So's store has been broken into and "cutlery, silks, clothing and shoes" stolen. It will start off probably with the inscription in large type, "$25 reward" and close with, "notify John Brown, sheriff of LuSueh county." Then Marshal Appleby will go through "The Willows" again. He may locate the men and the goods, but to get them will be another story. He must either decoy them into Wisconsin or else call on the Winnebago authorities to act in concert with him. Perhaps he will get the thief, but in all probability he will not. Seven eighths of the goods stolen about northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin, the officers say, finds its way to "The Willows" and thence to the Chicago "fences" where the plunder is sold.

Bank Was Robbed. Some time ago a delegation from "The Willows" hired a team at Beloit to "go for a ride." Hardly had they had time to reach Poplar Grove, Ill., ere Marshal Appleby was notified that the bank at that village had been entered, but the thieves had been frightened away by a fisherman who had started out on a trip at 3 o'clock a. m. and surprised the men at work. These men were all arrested for their work, either by Marshal Appleby or the Winnebago County authorities. These birds of prey have the "lay of the land" of every store and business place in Beloit; they feed on the chicken coops and gardens of the Line city; and then seek safety in Illinois. They are a hard lot and the people realize it. Hardly a household lives in Beloit without firearms in the house and many people carry revolvers, especially after nightfall. The tramps know this, and it is probably well that they do. Only the fear of bullets hold them in check and occasionally they get a little "lead medicine" as was the case where they attacked Deputy Sheriff Tully a few evenings since. The thieving at Beloit is all of a minor nature, however, as they know that any large "job" would be followed by speedy and severe consequences. The unpleasant fact that they are near is the chief bane of the Beloiters, and that is enough.

Think Wheeler Was Slain. It is not at all strange, that under these circumstances, Beloit people may think that Mr. Wheeler was killed by the tramps, as the conditions of his accidental death were highly improbable. Wheeler was found dead with a bullet hole in his stomach. A battered gun was lying some distance away, and a horse and buggy tied to a tree, near by and covered with blood. He was riding along when his wheel stuck a stump, throwing the gun out and discharging it, it was claimed, after which Wheeler, with his life blood ebbing away, rode some distance on the buggy, got out, tied the horse and lay down to die. It is now claimed that Wheeler was not in the habit of going shooting; that he bought the gun to repel the raiders who despoiled his garden, and that there was nothing in the game line to kill at the place where he was found. Neither was it in the shooting season. "Was it a case of murder?" said Turnkey North, whose home is in Beloit, in response to a question. "Well, I hardly think so, but it would not be at all strange if it was."

BIG CROWD AT THE A. O. H. PICNIC Annual Outing Was Much Enjoyed By All Who Attended.

Yesterday was A. O. H. day and a large crowd joined with the members of that society in their annual picnic at Mayflower park where all had a good time. Music by the Imperial band opened the program at the park and as Rev. Father Collins was prevented from acting as president of the day by the death of Sister Columbia, J. L. Mahoney took his place. His address in that capacity was very interesting and at the close he introduced the speaker of the day, Hon. J. T. Keating of Chicago. Mr. Keating held the undivided attention of his audience, and spoke of the friendly attitude of the A. O. H. toward America and said the members were willing and a willing today to devote their lives, money and liberty for their adopted country. During the rebellion they spent $380,000 for the cause and now had $1,029,000 in the treasury, that would be used for the same purpose if necessary.

The A. O. H. had never forgotten its mother country, for if a man forgets his mother country and is not loyal to it, he cannot be loyal to the country of his adoption. The A. O. H. teaches good citizenship; it endeavors to instill into the bosoms of the young, true respect for the republic and the principles upon which our laws and liberties are based. Without proper respect for our liberty, our government, and the ballot box, the dangers to our country are imminent, and if this respect is not taught, the dead, who have laid down their lives nobly for this country have died in vain. Arnold, with all his treason, was not so bad as the men who, at the present day, speak lightly of and teach disrespect to this glorious republic.

The "Wearing of the Green," by the Imperial band, was the next number, after which Charles Cunningham, of Chicago, was called out by the audience and sang a solo with "Pride of the Ball" for an encore.

The prize dancing then followed, the trophies being won by Miss Mayner, Mr. McCarthy, and Mr. O'Brien. Dancing closed the day's amusement, and all say they had a pleasant and profitable outing.

NEWVILLE MYSTERY HAS BEEN SOLVED

THE MURDERER LOCATED IN PHILADELPHIA.

Officer Cochrane Says the Dead Man Was Suffocated By Gas in a Lonely Farmhouse—Other Supposed Victims—Sketches Made on the Spot By The Gazette.

Constable Wallace Cochrane has solved the Newville mystery. It was murder.

The officer finds the best possible grounds for that belief, and is ready to take the case into court as soon as he can capture the man who he believes did the job. However, this man is now in a distant state and is in all probability will refuse to come to Wisconsin without a requisition. Officer Cochrane will lay the evidence he has gathered before the authorities next week and then he will know what he can do in the matter. What

The dead man, whose name was John E. Smith, was possessed of considerable money and great physical strength. When he left home last spring he took both with him. On the road he met a man, whose name

HENRY M. HART MARRIES AGAIN

Fifty Minutes After Being Divorced He Weds Mrs. E. M. Pratt.

From Fargo comes a piece of news that will interest Janesville people and illustrate the devious ways of the lad with the bow and arrow. The item is as follows:

"Henry M. Hart, general agent for the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, recently of St. Paul, secured a divorce from Harriet T. Hart, on the ground of desertion, alleging in the complaint that while he was fifty-seven years old, she was 67, and had refused to live with the plaintiff for fifteen years. They were married in Harmony, Wis., in 1858, and had five children, all grown. He secured his decree at 8:40 in the morning. Fifty minutes later he had secured a license, and at 4:30 in the afternoon was married to Mrs. Ella M. Pratt of Chicago." Mr. Hart was in the insurance business in Janesville for years. He went from here to St. Paul.

STABLE GUARDED BY A FOX.

Novel Protector Watches Over Horses at The Fair Grounds.

A full blooded fox stands guard over Joseph Hield's training stable at the fair grounds and does as well as any dog. A chain still ornaments his neck for he still has a trace of wildness especially if a strange dog gets too familiar about the stable. But the fox's turn comes when the stable boys drown out gophers. The fox seems to know just what is coming out and any gopher that gets five feet from his home is an exception.

FEW CAMPERS THIS SUMMER.

Bicycle Fad Seems To Have Furnished a Substitute.

The bicycle fad has had its effect on campers. An owner of up-river camping grounds says that two years ago there were nine different camps on his land all at one time. Last year there were six, while this year there has been but one. People who have been his regular campers have this year invested their savings in bicycles and are touring on the silent steed.

ARCHIE McLEAN COMES BACK TO JANESVILLE.

Veteran of Three Wars, He Marched

Away From Town Early in 1861 as Lieutenant of Co. D, Second Wisconsin, and Saw Plenty of Hard Fighting.

A. B. McLean is in the city visiting ante-bellum friends.

"Archie" McLean was a resident of Janesville and among the most popular citizens years ago.

He is a veteran of three wars. The patriotic distinction belongs to him of being the first volunteer to put his name on a local muster roll in response to the call of President Lincoln for seventy-five thousand men in April, 1861, and he served Uncle Sam throughout the war from Bull Run to Appomattox.

Fifteen years previous to this he served in a New York regiment in the Mexican war and was at the storming of Belen gate in the city of Mexico. Still earlier—1838—he was mixed up in the Canadian rebellion.

Helped Organize the "Light Guard." Mr. McLean came to Janesville about 1856, and engaged in the merchant tailoring business. He was also a leading member in the old St. Andrew's society, which had among its members nearly every Scotchman in Rock county.

He took great interest in military matters, and was among the foremost in the organization of the Janesville Light Guard, a company of militia organized about 1855, with H. A. Patterson as captain. McLean being first lieutenant and drill master. Excepting Attorney T. H. Ruger (now Major General Ruger, U. S. A.) Mr. McLean was the only citizen at all versed in military tactics. When the Janesville Wide Awakes were organized in the memorable presidential campaign of 1860, Mr. McLean was elected captain, and took his company numbering over one thousand men to Chicago to participate in the great torch light procession and reception of William H. Seward.

Janesville Beaten By a Cross Road.

The Janesville company tried for the prize banner which was offered by Chicago to the company having the largest number of men in proportion to the republican vote. Janesville was beaten by a little Illinois town reporting three republican votes and eighty-nine Wide Awakes.

Captain McLean left Janesville in 1861 as first lieutenant of D company Second Wisconsin volunteers, and the fact that his regiment formed a part of the old "Iron Brigade" is evidence that he stood many times in the front. He was among the bravest of the brave, seeming absolutely without fear.

Time is dealing kindly with the old veteran, and notwithstanding the fact that he has been active in three campaigns, covering three decades, he still appears to have vitality to endure another. With all his seventy-five years he is as straight as an Indian, and his step as elastic as one a score of years his junior.

Shocked By Andrew Barlass' Death.

Coming here to visit old-time friends for a few days, he was much grieved at learning of the death of Hon. Andrew Barlass. These two had been steadfast friends for many years. Mr. McLean did not hear of the death until he reached the city yesterday and was making arrangements to drive out to Mr. Barlass' home to make him a visit.

Mr. McLean will remain in this city until Sunday, when he will return to his home in Chicago. He is registered at the Myers.

A Very Poor Catch.

"Mercy," cried the editor's wife, as she arose in the morning, to find two windows pried open and the lamp overturned in the middle of the floor. "There was a burglar in the house last night—a burglar!"

Horse-Box for One.

A well-known and popular Irish owner of race-horses once occasioned a rather ludicrous incident. Some few days prior to the Grand National he wired to the captain of one of the boats plying between Dublin and Liverpool thus: "Keep a berth for Lady Tempest." The captain, upon receipt of the telegram, got into a state of consternation, all the berths having been previously engaged. With true gallantry, however, the officer gave up his own cabin, which he ordered to be put into the best possible condition for her ladyship. The gallant captain's surprise and disgust can be better imagined than described when Lady Tempest (the celebrated steeplechaser) arrived!

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

11 B. C.—Tiberius Claudius Drusus, Roman emperor, was born; poisoned by Agrippina, his niece and wife, the mother of Nero, A. D. 54.
 1589—Henry III of France was murdered by Jacques Clement.
 1798—Battle of the Nile; Nelson destroyed the French fleet.
 1818—Maria Mitchell, astronomer, born in Nantuxet, Mass.; died 1889.
 1851—Miss Harriet Lee, popular English writer, author of "The Canterbury Tales" and other story books, died at Clifton; born 1756.
 1866—Kooveskoove, or John Ross, famous Cherokee chief, died in Washington city; born 1790.
 1876—Colorado admitted as a state.
 1892—General Speed Smith Fry, Union veteran, died in Louisville; born 1818.

HELPED BY MACHINERY.

Much of the former labor of carpenters, brickmakers and furniture-makers is now performed by machinery, but the census shows a large increase of workers in all these trades. Between the years 1880 and 1890 the number of carpenters in the United States increased from 53,347 to 140,031, and their average annual earnings from $459 to $675. The brickmakers in 1880 were 59,032, and in 1890 109,151, with an advance in individual annual income of over 20 per cent. In furniture, the workers increased from 55,464 to 92,054, and the annual average earnings from $453 to $527. If these figures are correct, and their accuracy has not been questioned, the introduction of labor-saving machinery is a decided advantage to all concerned.

GOOD ROADS THE YEAR ROUND.

Rock county farmers have discussed the merits of a crushed stone wagon track a dozen feet wide with a dirt road alongside. It is well known that dirt roads in summer afford pleasanter driving than any other kind, but in winter or continued wet weather they are at the other extreme. It is stated that this combination road can be built for about one-half as much as one macadamized full width. The idea seems to be one worthy of general attention and careful experiment. It is being tried in the east, and the results should be studied closely.

TWO THINGS IN THE WAY

Two things beside that letter of declination interfere with Cleveland's chance for a third term.

1st—Cleveland's party cannot elect anybody to anything.
 2nd—Cleveland cannot get a nomination from that party to an office of any sort.

These considerations are entitled to a certain amount of weight when the question of how much Cleveland sacrifices in refusing a third term is under discussion.

Pig iron is being shipped from Ohio to England. It is of fine quality, designed for use in carriage building, and is regarded by the Englishmen superior to the home product. This is another of the indications of rehabilitated prosperity for this country which have now become so common.

How glad we ought to be that a kind-hearted syndicate came along just in time and agreed to do for $5,000,000 what the secretary of the treasury is supposed to do—keep the finances of the nation in decent order.

Senator Sherman gives warning that the president of the United States is a frightfully overworked man. We don't Messrs. Reed, McKinley, Harrison et al pay some attention?

Governor Upham has one advantage in the judgeship matter—he has a big state full of the most excellent material to pick from.

What Mr. Cleveland thinks of third terms would be more important if any possibility of a third term were in sight.

Knocked Down.

We have knocked down the price of every white slipper in the store for benefit of the players in the coming society event. We can surely please you as to quality and price. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

Ida Baird

Word has been received in Janesville announcing the death of Miss Ida Baird, which occurred at the home of her brother, Joel Baird, at Los Angeles, California, on July 23. Inflammation of the bowels was the cause of her demise, and many Janesville friends will be deeply pained to hear of her taking off. While in Janesville Miss Baird resided with her mother, Mrs. Sarah Baird, and brothers, George W. and Arthur A., in Forest Park.

TRAIN BROKE IN TWO CAUSING A WRECK

SMASHUP ON THE C. & N. W. NEAR MILTON.

Two Cars Broken Up and Derailed and a Threshing Machine and Engine Jumbled Up in the Debris, But Fortunately No one Was Injured.

CONDUCTOR ORVILLE CHURCH'S Chicago & Northwestern freight train broke in two two miles this side of Milton, at 1 o'clock this morning, and the two sections came together with a crash. Two cars were broken and derailed. One of them was loaded with a threshing machine and engine, and the heavy machines rolled into the ditch. The wrecking crew were summoned from here, and left in charge of Assistant Superintendent Moulton soon after the news was received. The wreck was a bad one to handle, owing to the weight of the traction engine and the bulk of the threshing machine, and the crew did not get back to Janesville until noon. Engineer George Crouse was pulling the train. No one was injured.

THERE are not many Rock County fields in which can be seen oats five feet high with heads twenty-on inches in length, but that is the kind they are raising at Clare, Iowa, a sample of which is on exhibition at the Gazette office. The crop was grown on the farm of H. H. Baldwin who is a relative of William Spicer, of this city to whom the sample was sent and ran from eighty to one hundred bushels to the acre. Corn and potatoes are a much larger crop than anyone expected, Mr. Baldwin writes, while the grass in the pastures is luxuriant.

HEATH-DUDLEY NUPTIALS SOLEMNIZED TODAY.

Rev. S. Halsey Performs the Ceremony at 3 O'Clock—St. John-Kastner Wedding—Young People Come Here From Dayton to Wed—Bower City Social News.

There was a pretty wedding at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Dudley on Washington street this afternoon. Beneath a canopy of green, strewn with blossoms stood Marcellus A. Heath and Miss Jennie C. Dudley. Around them were a throng of friends and the air was filled with the music of Smith's orchestra.

As the music rose and fell Rev. Sabin Halsey stepped forth with hand half raised in benediction and began the marriage service of the Methodist Episcopal church. The full service was used, and was made more impressive by the strains from the hidden orchestra which played softly throughout the ceremony.

Supporting the bride was Miss Rose Little, of Evansville; while the best man was David A. Dudley of Chicago, a brother of the bride. The costume of the bride was of satin, with train and veil and with pearl trimmings. She carried white bride's roses. White silk with satin trimmings formed Miss Little's costume and she carried pink roses.

Will Take a Lake Trip. When the ceremony ended and congratulations had been passed, the company sat about little tables and elaborate refreshments were served. At 6:25 the bride and groom will leave for Chicago on the limited and from there will take a trip on the lakes.

Many friends from out of town were present at the wedding and the testimonials of regard were very handsome. Senator O. L. Dudley and wife of Chicago, David and Edward Dudley of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. John Heath of Winnetka, Misses Sarah and Margaret McGraw of Watertown, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Young and daughters Maud and Florence, of Brodhead, were among the guests from a distance.

Both bride and groom are rich in having the sincere regard of a host of friends. The bride, the only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Dudley, was to have graduated from the high school next June and was one of the most popular members of her class. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Heath. He is a fireman on the C. & N. W. where he has shown that he inherits the good qualities which have made his father so highly valued.

St. John-Kastner.

There was a quiet wedding at the home of Rev. Dr. Hodge last evening, the parties being Hobart St. John and Miss Henrietta Kastner. They stood before the clergyman at 8 o'clock and the words were said that made them one. The groom is a fireman on the C. & N. W., and the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kastner, of the Fifth ward. Mr. and Mrs. St. John will make Janesville their home.

William F. Riley and Miss Mae C. Edwards came all the way from Dayton, Wis., to Janesville to wed. They stopped at the Park House and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Sabin Halsey at 1:30 this afternoon.

Brief Bits of Social Notes.

LETTER FROM COL. W. B. BRITTON

Asbury Park Is a Great Place for an Outing He Says.

Col. and Mrs. W. B. Britton are enjoying their outing at Asbury Park, N. J. to the fullest extent. In a letter to E. F. Crossett, Col. Britton says that the surf bathing is fine and that from the veranda of the hotel where they are stopping he can see twenty of the three hundred hotels that are located at that place. The accommodations, he says, are all that could be asked for. The trip in a trolley car from the Asbury Park to Pleasure Bay and Shrewsbury Basin, he says, was very enjoyable as was also the ride in a four seat buckboard, to Elborn, Long Branch, Seabright, Monmouth Beach, Rumson Road and Neversink. On the latter trip, which is the most delightful trip in the country, they met all kinds and descriptions of vehicles, the string of tally hos, Victorias, drags etc., extending for miles. At Shark river Col. Britton caught fifteen of the three hundred crabs that his party captured. The surf is splendid and in the evening the walks are black with promenaders. The colonel says they will remain at Asbury Park for three weeks and then go to New York City for about the same length of time.

FAT RACOONS ARE MORE PLENTY

Several Have Killed By The Farmers of Late.

The sly racoon is making Rock county his home and the farmers are reviving the "ancient sport" for the striped animals are more numerous than they have been for a number of years. L. Hubbell who resides in the town of Janesville captured four young coons who were nestled in a snug little home in the hollow of an old tree. The mother was also shot and it was found that she had but three legs, the missing limb, no doubt, having been left in some steel trap. William Hankey, who resides near Mr. Hubbell's place heard a commotion on his back porch the other evening and on investigation found that a good sized coon was making away with a fat hen. The thievish beast was shot and it was found that he weighed twenty five pounds.

FEWER WHEELS ARE BROKEN NOW

New Riders Are Learning to Avoid Falls And Accidents.

The business of bicycle repairing is a bit slack just now owing to the fact as a local expert put it, that the new beginners are getting skilled enough so that they have but few accidents, while the majority of people who have had the idea they wanted a wheel have either bought one or put it off until next year.

"Race week it was different" said a repair man. "Then we had all the work we could possibly attend to."

PRETTY GIRL TAKES INSANE PRISONERS

MISS EDWARDS COMES HERE FOR FRED HESS.

Turnkey Surprised To See a Golden-Haired Officer in White Slippers Step Out of a Closed Carriage and Call For a Crazy Man Who Was Confined Here.

A dainty, white-slipped, golden haired girl was the deputy who came here after a Dane county insane man today.

Good looks and grit. They go together, in Miss Annie Edwards case.

Two weeks ago the insane asylum in Verona, near Madison, burned. Superintendent Edwards was struck by falling timbers and disabled.

That was the last he knew until the next day when he found himself in bed, and heard that all the inmates of the asylum were at large.

"And I can't stir a step in a month," he groaned.

"But I can," said his nineteen year old daughter, Annie.

At first the idea of the girl's acting as her father's deputy seemed preposterous. She insisted on having a chance, however, and in two weeks has taken back all but three of the fugitives.

When she stepped out of a closed carriage in front of the jail today, she wore a light traveling dress. A pair of white Oxfords showed as she tripped up the walk and suggested a typical summer girl rather than an officer of the law.

Turnkey Thought She Was Joking.

"I came after Fred Hess," she told Turnkey North, in the same tone she would have asked for two yards of ribbon.

The turnkey was amazed. Hess is the insane man who mused up the Orfordville constabulary the other day, and was only subdued when three men sat on him.

"Here are the papers," said the young lady.

She handed over letters calling for this prisoner and explained that she had lived among crazy people all her life and wasn't at all afraid. "Hess will be glad to see me," she said.

And he was.

When Miss Edwards entered the corridor he hurried up to shake hands with her and told her where he had been. He explained that the Verona fire was caused by a man dropping sparks from a pipe in an armful of laundry.

Miss Edwards, with her burly prisoner left this afternoon at 4:20.

HEAD GASHED BY A CHUNK OF COAL

Disagreement at the Cotton Mill Caused Blood to Flow.

Simon Macron, an employe at the cotton mill, walked into the municipal court this afternoon with a gash in his head and his shirt red with blood. He claimed that John Joyce had thrown a piece of coal at him, inflicting the injury, and he wanted to know what he could do about it. Macron, who is an Italian, said that Joyce and others had been trying to "beat him out of a job" and that was the cause of their attack on him. After the row Macron walked to the west side fire station, where Sheriff Appleby was notified, and Dr. Joe Whiting called to stitch up the gash. The affair may be aired in the court room, as Judge Phelps was absent this afternoon. It is said that Joyce threw the coal without intending to hurt Macron, and its striking him was accidental.

HUNTINGTON, Mass. Mar. 18, 1895.
The Narcoti Chemical Co.,

Gentlemen:—I have used tobacco for over twenty-five years, chewing and smoking every day from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. stopping only for meals. On Monday, February 4, I called at your office in Springfield, and bought a bottle of the Cure which I used as directed and on the tenth day the desire for tobacco had left me and has not returned. I did not lose a meal while taking the cure. My appetite has improved and I consider Narcoti-Cure a grand thing. Very respectfully,
CHAS. I. LINCOLN.

LOVE AND LIFE.

Sweet, we were happy, you and I,
Ere words of warfare came between;
Ere storms of passion swept our sky,
That all so blue and bright had been.
But like a mad storm dashing,
Its vernal banks of clashing,
Our swordlike speech came flashing
And sundered all between.

Love, it was as the heavens are
Upon a clear and cloudless night,
When every golden, gleaming star
That earthward smiles is shining bright.
But peace afar was driven,
By jealous doubtings driven,
Till love's serene heaven
Was turned to darkest night.

Life, it was sweet, and free from care,
For love and faith in you were there,
And both in you seemed doubly fair,
Who were with double fairness rare.
But from the world's shower
Of doubt and anger's hour
Sprang forth a bitter flower
To poison love and life.

—C. G. Rogers in New England Magazine.

A GOOD DANCER.

The men tell me that I am a pretty good dancer myself, which may or may not be the case.

This, however, I will own up to, whether it is boasting or not—I do know whether a man is a good dancer or whether he is not from the very first moment my finger tips drop upon his arm.

That man about whom I was let in for so much unmerciful chaff at our last assembly ball is a very good case in point. Whatever were his other drawbacks, he was undoubtedly a good dancer—one of the best I ever danced with.

Certainly, as it turned out, he did not dance with any other girls, but I don't see that that weakens my statement. You cannot judge much of the way a man dances by merely looking at his heels or watching the way he handles his partner.

I know most of them would give their ears now to say that they had danced with him. They don't say so, of course. They say they'd never have danced with a man to whom they had never been introduced.

My fascinating partner and I never were formally introduced. The thing was quite simple, and I daresay the trick has been played thousands of times before. Ask your own brother, on his honor, if he is innocent of it.

The assembly ball was a gathering of no particular clique or set. It was a room full of people who were in a great measure strangers to one another.

With this last assembly I was feeling at first more than usually out of tune, because, although I had been standing by mamma a good ten minutes, I had up till then only ten names scrawled down on my programme, and I had no others in view.

So when a man came up from behind, bowed, addressed me by name and asked for a dance I felt distinctly glad to see him. He was rather tall, dark, with black eyes, black mustache and good teeth, and, for anything I knew, his name might have been Adam.

I couldn't do less than bow slightly and conclude that I had been introduced to him one of the previous years. I also saw fit to give him waltz "No. 7," which he asked for.

"And would you take compassion on me and give me another?" said he. "I know so few people here this year—at least so few that I care to dance with. Awfully obliged."

I suppose the compliment was a trifle broad, but it tickled me at the time, and I gave him the dance next after supper. "By the way," said he, "are you engaged for the first extra?" I suppose they have such a thing?

From that very first moment I told myself I was in luck's way. At the first sweep of the waltz I knew it. By the time we made the first round of the floor I felt that I could have danced on with that partner forever.

We danced the dance through to its very last lingering bar, and I said to my fascinating partner—a thing which I very rarely allow myself to say to any man after a waltz, lest it should make him unduly conceited—I said, "Thank you."

"Thank you very much," replied he. "I don't think I ever had such a delicious dance before. Could you give me another?"

"You have two others already," I suggested.

So I gave him the supper dance when he asked for it, and the extras after, and the polka before.

He left me then, and for the most part he stood with his back against a pillar, his hands in his pockets and a very bored expression on his dark, handsome face.

I must confess that we had the fourth together—another waltz. Those tire-some men either wouldn't dance or didn't know me, and I saw visions of sitting it out in single blessedness, when my fascinating partner came up and saved the situation.

"Would I again take compassion on him? Might he? Thanks, so much."

Soon afterward he took me up stairs and laughed and showed me a snug little sitting room, which even I had not known of before. He said it belonged to the manager or some one and was not supposed to be used.

"You seem to know the place pretty well," said I, with the idea of trying to find out who he was, because still I couldn't remember having ever met him before.

"I think I may say I know every inch of it."

"Do you live somewhere near here then? I—er—I forget."

"Not so fortunate, I'm afraid. The fact is, I'm a cockney. I ran down here on purpose for the dance. Do you know," he continued, laughing, "it's an awful jar to my feelings to discover such a thing, but I can see you don't recollect me one little bit."

"It's awfully rude of me, I know, but, you see, I come across so many new faces that—" cognito a little longer, and then if you cannot flatter me by remembering I shall humble myself and own up to who I am."

My fascinating partner got up and shut the door.

"Miss Conyers, does it strike you that with this dance and the next, which you had given me already, and the supper and the supper extras you have given yourself into my charge for at least three-quarters of an hour? Let me impress upon you that no one is likely to disturb us."

I didn't like his manner one little bit. I am not nervous, but I got up and said I thought it would be better to go down stairs.

"Awfully sorry to differ from you, Miss Conyers, but I must ask you to stay."

He turned the key in the lock and put it in his pocket.

"Please sit down again. Sit down, I say, Miss Conyers, and don't make a noise. I don't think any one could hear you, even if you did scream out, but if you try to make the experiment I shall be forced to resort to unpleasant measures. In fact, I shall be compelled to cram part of this antimacassar into your mouth by way of a gag. So now you are reasonable."

"What do you mean?" I gasped, feeling very scared indeed.

"No bodily harm to you unless you force me to it, that I swear upon my honor. And, really, after those delicious waltzes you have given me I keenly regret having to offer you any annoyance whatever. But, Miss Conyers, business is business, and I have been at considerable trouble and expense to get here tonight to enjoy the pleasure of your society, and I feel sure you will understand that some recompense was due to me. I must trouble you for your diamonds."

"Oh, you cannot mean to!"

"Miss Conyers, I am a man of my word, and let me remind you that time presses. My carriage is waiting for me outside, and I have a long drive ahead of me. Now, must I act as your lady's maid, or do you prefer to unclasp the diamonds yourself?"

With trembling fingers I took off and handed him my necklace and the bracelet and the half dozen little brooches from my corsage.

"Thanks, very much," he said, slipping them deftly into his breast pocket.

"And might I venture to remind you of that exquisite star which nestles in your hair? Thanks again. No other trifles you would like to part with? I think, my dear Miss Conyers, if you take off your left glove you might find something interesting there. I believe I see a slight protuberance on the third finger. Thanks once more. You are too awfully good. And now I won't bother you any further."

And he was gone, and I heard the lock shoot in the door, and the key was turned on the farther side.

It was a full hour before any one came near to let me out, and by that time my fascinating partner was far enough away. It was quite true that he had come down from town on purpose for the assembly ball. The police said that he was a well known London swell mobster.

But, unfortunately, they never managed to rediscover his address, or, what was very much more to the point, my beautiful diamonds.—London Answers.

Water Column 93,000,000 Miles Long.

The finite mind is utterly incapable of framing an idea or of making a comparison that will properly illustrate the vast amount of water now existing in the five great oceans of our planet. Let us see: One gallon of water weighs ten pounds, and figures on the area and depth of the Pacific show that there are approximately 200,000,000,000,000 of such gallons of water in that ocean alone. The Atlantic could be put down in the basin of the Pacific, and only fill it one-third full. The Indian, the Arctic and Antarctic oceans, combined with the other two, would give an area for the five of 142,000,000 square miles. Formed into a circle this would make an ocean 12,000 feet in depth and 13,000 miles from bank to bank. The contents would be about 195,000,000 cubic miles of water. If a standpipe could be built from the earth to the sun, so that we could have a column of water 93,000,000 miles in length, that standpipe would have to be made 2½ miles in diameter to hold the water now contained in the five great oceans. It has been figured that it would take 1,600,000 years for the water of the Pacific to flow over Niagara, the volume being continually as great as that which is now plunging over the falls.—St. Louis Republic.

A Girl Patriot.

An English girl at school in France began to describe one of our regiments on parade to the French schoolmates, and as she went on she told me the recollection became so vivid she became so proud to be the countrywoman of such soldiers and so sorry to be in another country that her voice failed her and she burst into tears. I have never forgotten that girl, and I think she very nearly deserves a statue. To call her a young lady, with all its niminy associations, would be to offer her an insult. She may rest assured of one thing, although she never should marry a heroic general, never see any great or immediate result of her life, she will not have lived in vain for her native land.—Robert Louis Stevenson in "An Inland Voyage."

Flags at Half Mast.

The custom of flying a flag at half mast high as a mark of mourning and respect arose out of the old naval and military practice of lowering the flag in time of war as a sign of submission. Eat and Be Happy!

Nobody can do this who has dyspepsia. Even a light meal, eaten with relish, inflicts more or less torture upon the wretched victim of indigestion. But why allow one's self to be thus victimized when success in the shape of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters can be summoned? If you are going to any locality—a remote country farm house, or new settlement, for instance, where it is not readily procurable, provide yourself in advance with an adequate supply. An unaccustomed diet is very apt to produce dyspeptic qualms, so is brackish water aboard ship and the eating of cold fruits. Forestall further annoyance of the complaint with this superb and genial corrective and preventive. Heartburn, sour eructations, biliousness, constipation, malaria, rheumatism and kidney trouble promptly succumb to the onsets of this conqueror of bodily ailments and restorative of vigor.

Dear Parasols AT A Cheap Price

Spring fashions said that this was to be a white season, and how well fashion was posted has been evidenced in the prevalence of the white dress, the white hat, the white shoe, the white stocking and the white parasol, which have all been necessary adjuncts to a lady's wardrobe.

It is the last named that furnishes the foundation for the head lines of this advertisement ---Dear Parasols at a Cheap Price. It has a double meaning, but the one which we wish to more especially call your attention to is that we will sell them for this week at prices next to nothing, and all on account of a cash purchase of a large line of samples, principally white, a few black and a few novelties. Prices were regularly up to ten dollars, but in no instance will they be over half price.

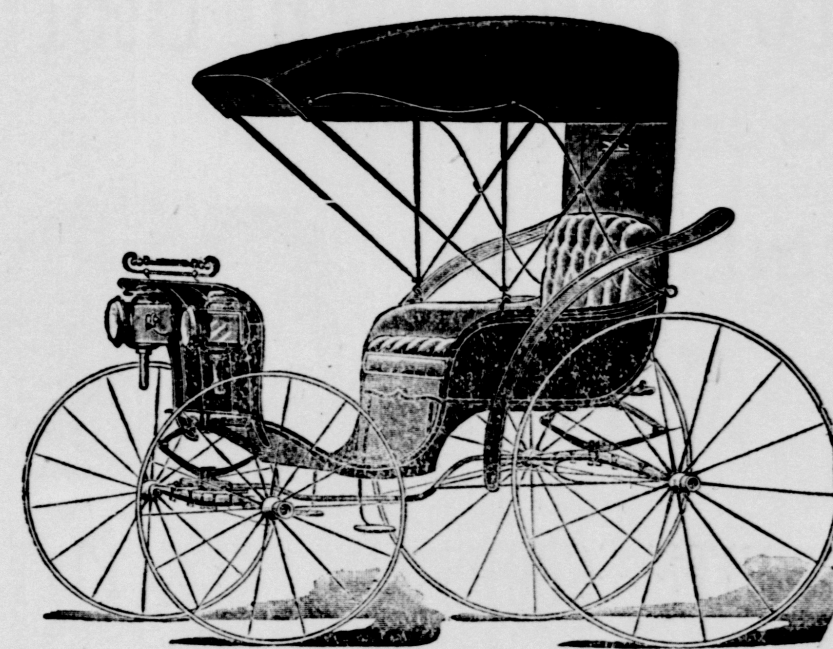

In the line are a number of white silk parasols with white sticks, white frames, very slightly soiled; at this sale they will be 89 Cents.

Notice them in the center window.
